

Abstract

A management tool coordinates a modeling engine, databank, communication tool and supply chain functions to aid in the selection of an optimal promotion action, to monitor the results of that action, and to communicate those results to appropriate

5 persons using browser-based, navigable web pages.